The trigger should look like the following: if(some condition) { insert into some_table (some_column, another_column) values (123,456); } I don't want to use any external application like Toad etc.

So if there is some way to create trigger with the following syntax then it is fine for me. Thanks in advance A: You can do it. Using JavaScript and XHR. It's possible but it's not easy.
